Incident Tracking

Get critical support with Review360®'s Incident Tracking functionality—a robust, easy-to-use feature within the Review360 platform to report, manage, and track all types of student incidents.

Review360's web-based behaviour system—accessed on any web-enabled device—provides a solution for data collection and aggregation. Content, and support materials, also available within the system, help implement what works in a practical and efficient manner.

Electronically Report and Track Incidents:
- Minor incidents (i.e. in-class)
- Major incidents, such as:
  - Office referrals
  - Bullying
  - Threats
  - Health incidents

Respond Appropriately or Prevent
Review360's Incident Reporting capabilities offer efficiencies for:
- Teachers to report and respond to incidents quickly and easily
- Assign appropriate consequences
- Communicate with parents and/or staff
- Track data
- Provide supports

Incident reports show trends indicating when, where, and what types of most inappropriate behaviours occur—information which can assist in enabling prevention.

Evaluate Effectiveness and Resource Allocation
Data-driven to support programming and resource allocation, use information collected by Review360's Incident Reporting feature
- Evaluate effectiveness of programming or interventions
- Plan resource allocation

Review360 may be configured to suit local requirements or initiatives.

Track
The path to positive school climate starts with observation and identification. Review360 provides a solution with easy-to-complete reporting forms. These forms' ease of use promote regular tracking of incidents by teachers and administrators, while ensuring consistency in data reporting.

Aggregate
Compiling and evaluating incident information, Review360 organizes incident data in a centralized database, easily accessible to teachers and administrators to get a complete picture.

Analyze
Review360 provides the means to make data-driven decisions.

Intervene
Review360 prepares teachers with practical strategies and resources driven by data that fit students' profiles

Communicate
Review360 supports fluid communication among teachers, administrators, and parents, resulting in continuity of services, consistency for the students, and a positive learning environment.
