

Supports Canadian Teachers and Educators while improving student success and school climate.

It is commonly known that classroom behaviour can directly correlate to a student’s academic success. As behaviour issues are addressed and resolved, students’ progress improves measurably—as does the climate of their classrooms and schools.

Review360 is suitable for general or special education populations—or as a total behaviour solution—use the tables below to review the licenses and/or subscriptions that best suit the needs of students in your school(s):

Universal Screening Licenses*

A critical step in identifying students who are at risk for social-emotional and behavioural issues, educators use universal screening results to identify which students may be at risk obtain the most appropriate next steps, and share the results with families.
